GERMANS SHOW HATRED AGAINST
U.S. OCCUPATIONConvinced Military Administration Is Suffering From Lack Of Policy

Frankfurt, Dec. 3 (AP)—German resentment against the United States Government is developing gradually into bitter hatred which is giving rise to increasing acts of resistance, a survey made by United States intelligence officers has revealed.

The conviction, it was said, is shared by many of the clergy who were called yesterday to discuss the survey.

Results of the survey, understood in an effort to obtain some idea on the German view, were embodied in a 30,000-word report made public yesterday.

The survey had been conducted by the investigators found that the Germans seem to be growing more and more convinced, whatever the critics.

"Whatever material losses the average German suffers, Germany has lost more," is the phrase which has been heard so often, the report said.

The survey also found that the Germans were able to rely on the fact that they had no aggressive intentions, whatever the critics.

Postpone Inquiry Until Next Session

Ottawa, Dec. 6 — (CP)—The Senate will postpone an inquiry into the administration and management of the Immigration Act until next session. Senator Art Horebock (L-Ontario) without notice motioned on the subject, naming a committee to conduct the inquiry.

Immigration was a subject vividly affected a great many years ago, and it is a subject on which Senator Horebock said, and he has informed the Senate that he has had a great deal of correspondence with the Immigration Department, and therefore there would be no doubt that sufficient study was a study that would have controversial issues.

Senator Horebock said his next session when he hoped to have the committee report on Immigration the consideration deserved.

16 NATIONS REPRESENTED

Brussels, Dec. 6 — (AP)—Representatives of 16 nations here today began the first of a series of conferences designed to bring order out of the Durand border. The British and French representatives to the so-called rolling stock and canal ship companies are expected to arrive.

Nuernberg, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Ernest Kaltenbrunner, former chief of Nazi security police, was stricken with a brain hemorrhage Nov. 18—two days before he was to face the International Military Tribunal. He was accused as criminal—will be returned from hospital to prison late this week, it is learned. Medical sources say he might be 30 days before he is strong enough to appear in court with the other defendants.

BY LAM GORDON
The Kidnaper
When you shoot the moon in a bridge game, like back it up with precision, reason. For a full moon is at a moonless day is a compelling personality created. As you are sitting south in this type of partnership hand:

♣ A 8 5
♠ A 10 8 3

The bidding should go like this:

SOUTH 1H

2H 3H
4NT 5H
6H
7H

all you bid six and make seven, you are wrong. If you bid seven and make only six, you are wrong. That depends on how good a player you are and the cards you can give for your final call.

Try the next month. bids six bid disappoints you, you figure out what cards are probably held by your partner. If you are not sure, you should bid seven. If you are not sure, you should bid seven. If you are not sure, you should bid seven.

When you scored five tricks and your partner scored six, you are not sure. You are not sure. You are not sure.

It is the sign of a good player to be able to make only six. It is the sign of a good player to be able to make only six. It is the sign of a good player to be able to make only six.

Jack Dempsey, Former Champ, Proves Main Attraction In Wrestling Show at Arena

Watson and Flanagan Win Two Falls But Best Fight In After Dempsey Leaves Ring
Jack Dempsey, a title showing figure, still displaying some of the old-time prowess that characterized him in his heyday as heavyweight champion of the world, was the main attraction at the arena show Wednesday night, when a packed house of thousands witnessed the 1946 wrestling season here.

The former idol of millions of boxing fans, still in the pink of condition, was bedazzled by hundreds of admirers, most of whom "knew him" at least as they told him, and Jack merrily accepted their requests for autographs, and gave it on cigarette boxes, cigarette papers, calling cards, and a number of wrapped paper.

Old folks, young ones, boys and girls, were thronged around the entrance to the dressing room, waiting for a shot of the hero and wanted nothing but to shake hands with Dempsey. He was not only a main attraction, but he was also a main attraction.

It came from Boston Bruins, who thumped Chicago Black Hawks 6-3 last night to leap into second place behind Canadiens.

Victory marked their fifth conquest in six games since Nov. 19, stretching the league's undefeated record. Over that stretch they outscored their opponents 25-13 in six games, including a 5-1 victory over the Chicago Black Hawks.

Early Mailing
Need of early mailing has been stressed in the mail to Ottawa, Montreal, and other cities and cards so that they may be delivered before Christmas Day. On that day there will be no mail delivery in Ottawa, Montreal, and other cities.

Mail for the United States should be in the mails by December 31. Other deadlines for delivery are: For British Columbia, Dec. 14th; for Alberta and Saskatchewan, Dec. 15th; for Manitoba and the Maritime provinces, mail should be posted by Dec. 16th, with Dec. 17th, the deadline for Ontario and Quebec.

This means that the postal service is not well wintering the busiest season of the year. From now on, the mails will be crowded an immense amount of mail and parcels into post offices and mail cars and post-trucks and into express trucks.

With this first Christmas since the close of the war and with so many preparations for a very merry Yuletide, there are prospects of an unprecedented volume of parcels and letters moving across the Dominion into the thousands of offices from which they will be distributed to their addressees.

The public has in its power to lighten the task of the postal service at this time of intense activity and should lose no time in preparing parcels for mailing. Letters and letters by mail so that there will be no disappointments through parcels and letters reaching their destination too late for the festive occasion.

Flow of Parcels Overseas
Canadians have been busy this year sending parcels overseas. The flow of parcels has been greater than ever in the war years even though very many thousands of Canadians have returned from overseas.

There has been a steady flow of parcels from overseas to Canada. The flow of parcels has been greater than ever in the war years even though very many thousands of Canadians have returned from overseas.

The flow of parcels has been greater than ever in the war years even though very many thousands of Canadians have returned from overseas. The flow of parcels has been greater than ever in the war years even though very many thousands of Canadians have returned from overseas.

At the same time there is a corresponding increase in the volume of mail from the other side to Canada.

The men who are still overseas are not being forgotten, the evidence being that more than before the men in Europe are being remembered by their friends in Canada.

The relations too have been cemented between the people of Britain and Canada through the comradeships and friendships that have been formed between them.

While the latter were overseas, they have undoubtedly helped to swell the holiday mail for Britain.

Postal Rates
Canadians will welcome the proposed increase in ordinary rates for mail. The increase is necessary to meet the cost of the paper and the cost of the postage.

London's Little Shrines
(Manchester Guardian)
Katie house in Hampstead having been reopened, many thoughtful people have happened to the many other much-visited houses in London where great writers and artists lived. Dr. Johnson's house in Gough Square, which was used for a time by the National Fire Service, was damaged by bomb, but not badly. It is still a good waiting lounge for repair work.

The house in Doughty Street, where Dickens lived, and from which he conducted editorial at night at Godey (in Kent) is unimpaired, but "closed till further notice," as was the house on the door between the two.

Carlyle's house in Cheyne Row, Chelsea, is safe but not yet reopened to the public. The house of the famous Whittier, who lived in the house in Kensington Palace Gardens have survived, but that characteristically the house in the same street, the office of the Court of Fleet Street, where Goldsmith lived, was destroyed. Lamb's house in the Strand, which was the home of many literary and legal stars in its historic precinct of the law, is now dust and rubble.

CHRISTIAN'S — Headquarters for Christmas Gifts!

HERE AGAIN!

CHRISTMAS GIFT FAVORITES

In addition to the many thousand items that we have had the pleasure of serving the public with during the past Christmas season, we are now fortunate in receiving limited quantities of new items that disappeared from the market with the beginning of hostilities.

For example, our new super health cast aluminumware has proven very popular for gifts. The "pressure cooker" while in short supply is greatly sought. A limited number of pairs of skates, a trickle of mantle radios, record players, small quantities of highest quality electrical appliances, from heating pads, electric tea kettles, etc. These appliances, while coming in limited quantities, cannot be held for customers and we strongly advise a visit to the store every time you are down town. It is our store policy to immediately put on sale any new item immediately received. What you might not see in the store today, may in all probability be in the store tomorrow. For example, this week three companies, each delivered two mantle radios, the first of the new production, and these of course are in great demand, and are picked up quickly.

GOODYEAR $500.00 THE GREATEST LEAGUE TIRE OF ALL TIME

MADE BY B.F. Goodrich

Here is good news for motorists! A new kind of tire has been developed and tests show that it will outlast present passenger car tires.

It is made of a new rubber compound developed by B. F. Goodrich—different from the ordinary synthetic rubber used previously.

In more than 2,000 tests, aggregating over 16,000,000 miles over all kinds of roads, this new B. F. Goodrich Silvertown tire has shown longer treadwear than present tires, outstanding resistance to skids and blowouts... and a new degree of quietness in the performance.

In the near future, these new Silvertowns will be produced for shipment to B. F. Goodrich dealers, but supplies may be limited for quite a while.

Meanwhile, take good care of the tires you have... or if you need new ones immediately, ask dealers for the famous B. F. Goodrich Linseaver Tread Tires now available... the tire that will give power mileage right from the start.

The majors approved the host of the International League and American Association and Pacific Coast leagues to "A" classification; the Southern Association and Texas League to "A-1," and the Atlantic Coast League to "A-2." Thus the top major league clubs will be in "A-1" classification. ## HOPE SHARPEST RECONVERSIONS IMPACT PASSED

Canadian Industry and Workers Look to 1946 for Smooth Shift Back to Peacetime Production

By JACK WILLIAMS
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Ottawa, Dec. 11 (CP)—Canada's industry will risk down 1945 as the year of reconversion headaches. At the year-end those headaches were by 200 million over but there was at least hope in the minds of both employers and employees that the sharpest impact had passed.

Accidentally there was a difficult winter ahead. Industry as a whole went through most of 1945 devoted to intensive war production, able to give only limited attention to the problems that would be inevitable when the war ended.

That end came more suddenly than industrialists, in comparison with others, had anticipated. It came, too, will toward the end of the year, as a time when employment normally drops off and that added a further complication.

Three lapses between V-E Day, May 8 and V-J Day, Aug. 15, proved a limited cushion. The reconversion of industry to peacetime lines.

Direct war employment had declined to 675,000 in September, 1945. By Oct. 1, 1945, the trend turned sharply downward. By the end of V-J Day, the figure stood at 600,000. By the end of the year, it was estimated to be 500,000. That was fewer than 100,000 at the end of the war.

Anticipating this flow of war workers on to the labor market, the veterans' benefit bill was passed, which would pay 400,000 at the end of November.

Meanwhile, production engineers were making good time to switch the plants from war to peacetime production. There were inevitable lulls while equipment was changed and rebuilding took place. Consumer goods—new looking stoves, refrigerators and so on—made at great expense, began coming off production.

Mr. J. W. Ripley and her three children, of Montreal, Que., who were travelling to meet Mr. Ripley in Hamilton, Ont., where they were to have been, were shaken up severely in their bodies.

While all this was going on the lines of employment graphs were reflecting a similar picture. The employment line went down while the line showing the number of unemployed rose sharply.

In mid-October the two lines crossed and for the first time since the early stages of the war Canada had more people looking for jobs than it had unfilled jobs. There was still a lot of work to be done. Men were needed to the mines; but they were largely to aid men. Men were needed in wood production; but former factory workers were reluctant to leave city homes for distant timber camps. Men were needed for housing; but many of those required were experienced tradesmen and construction was delayed by material shortages.

Those with their finger on the pulse of business and employment conditions believed it would be some time before reconversion troubles would end and Canada would be in the full swing of peacetime production.

More to be Accomplished

"While it may rightly be said that this is something teachers have always done, the overcoming complexity of the educational process. In the last few years a realization that more can be accomplished by supplementing the traditional informal guidance practices by scientific procedures and specific organizational structures has been developing.

There are three main areas in which guidance work is being developed:

1. Guidance personnel. As this is done, activities may be extended to take in many of these things which are currently the domain of the teacher and difficult to handle. Following is a brief outline of how these areas will receive immediate attention:

(1) Pupil adjustment.—Each pupil has a right to a good education. It is a question of immediate concern as to what these qualities are, and how to develop them. The school counselor has to

Perhaps the best method is by a 'student personnel' record which is maintained on a continuous basis from the time of entering school until school leaving. Too frequently at the present time there is not a record for the elementary school and another system for the high school. The record is a continuous process, then continuity of records is advisable.

Then on the other hand are the differences in the requirements and opportunities of hundreds, even thousands of occupations. It is unnecessary to make the statement that pupils have very little knowledge of the occupational world, and that our schools should do more to give

Dutch Nazi Leader Sentenced to Death

The Hague, Netherlands, Dec. 27. — (Reuters) — Anton Mussert, Dutch Nazi leader, was today sentenced to death by a Dutch special court.

Mussert, who was charged with high treason, took the sentence calmly and did not show the slightest surprise. His trial opened at The Hague Nov. 27 and lasted two days. Pronouncement of the verdict was postponed for two nights.

A 49-year-old former waterworks engineer, Mussert formed the Dutch National Socialist Movement in 1931 and collaborated with the Germans when they entered the

THIS is frankly a patriotic appeal to all who have living quarters for rent—in apartment blocks, rooming houses and hotels. You are asked to give returning veterans and their families, not only an equal chance but a preference, when they enquire about accommodations . . .

BECAUSE THEY DESERVE IT! They've done plenty for all of us at home, in protecting our country and our homes. Now it's our turn. These typical young Canadians had homes when they went away.

There have been great movements of population during the war. Many members of the forces have married since enlisting and face the problem of home-making under new and difficult conditions. Their ambition is to settle down, get to work and establish their homes. GIVE THEM A BREAK! You are not asked to give this accommodation, just to rent it, at rates approved by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

MRS. HOUSEHOLDER!

You, too, may help by renting unoccupied space in your home. One, two or three rooms made available to a veteran and his wife, will assist greatly in the veteran's rehabilitation and re-establishment in civilian life.

IT DIDN'T HAPPEN HERE!

This might have been your home, but for our gallant service men. Now that they're returning, let's show them and their families every consideration. Rent a part of your house. Give veterans pecuniary!

If you have space which you can make available, list it with the Citizens' Rehabilitation Committee, the local branch of the Canadian Legion, or Rooms Registry, 19 Campbell St., Phone 2738, advertising it in the newspapers or list it with a real estate agent. Inquire at the nearest Rentals Of-sce of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board about five months or less rental agreements. These are exempt from normal Wartime Prices and Trade Board non-eviction regulations, and five months tenancy will help many veterans through the winter.

Reconstruction Problems and Trade Most Pressing Post-War Problems In Canada Says Dominion Bank Head

Toronto, Dec. 13.—Post-war reconstruction problems and the marketing of Canada's food, with greater effect to maintain exports, were the principal subjects of the address by Mr. C. E. Carleton, President of The Dominion Bank, to the shareholders of the annual meeting in Toronto on Wednesday.

"There was no made word, said Mr. Carleton by which the common needs of a world ravaged by war could be met and a parallel industry instantly started.

"Referring to Canada's indebtedness, totalling $1,250 per capita, he said: "The carrying charges on the indebtedness and the cost of Government in its entirety of the direct responsibility and obligation of each citizen or resident of Canada. You have seen that as attorney as to assessment and expenditure. Therefore, your responsibility have a direct and vital interest in Government of

The time has arrived when power should displace war."

"Greater efforts were needed to maintain exports at a volume essential for moderate stability and prosperity. Our goods had to be competitive, and there was a limit to the loans and donations we could make to other countries, to increase their purchasing power."

"There is a great and constant demand upon our resources, whether it is essential or non-essential, or whether we can afford it or not," he declared. "Our present financial position necessitates a rapid economy. What we have been doing, and are doing, he declared, is really substituting ill-discipline."

"There always have been periods of unavoidable unemployment," he continued. "They will be recurrent. The only way to mitigate them is through Government industry and labor working for a common purpose, for greater economy and expansion of trade. This work is not being done."

"Our production is being retarded or retarded, thousands thrown out of work, while domestic markets were depleted of merchandise and industry deprived of equipment and replacement. All ways are destructive," he said, "including industrial wars."

Future of British Forests

Attention is focused today on forestry problems in the United Kingdom which suffered a drastic reduction in the number of trees to meet the national needs of the two great wars. The woodlands are a crop which may be heavily cut and yet a lumberer and there is timber and a lumberer differ from metals. Though British forestry actually seems to be well wooded, this is not so when the needs are compared with the comparative frequency with which trees are planted in hedge rows and in country estates. Though there is a national need for the protection of the United Kingdom, the actual area under cover of forest is only five per cent compared with the average of 20 per cent in France, twenty-five per cent in Germany and fifty-five per cent in Sweden.

Throughout the world, forests are being cut down to provide agricultural land, for building materials and for fuel. Not least was the use of forests in the British navy and merchant ships. The Napoleonic Wars brought a serious depletion in British forests. The industrial revolution brought an demand for softwoods but by 1915 Britain's consumption of wood was a third of what it had been in 1800. The cent was provided from homegrown timber.

In the two World Wars about one million acres of trees were cut down in Britain and 1944 the sacrifice of half of Empire acres enabled Britain with help of Empire exports to meet about half of its needs for wood resources and that saved seventeen million tons of shipping space. In 1938 only for homegrown needs came from home forests.

The United Kingdom has but two million acres of usable timber left. Her problem is to replace the woodlands to ensure homegrown needs of the country's needs in any future emergency.

First Great War a forestry commission was set up to acquire land for forests. Now the Ministry of Agriculture has acquired 100 million acres of well-managed forests in 50 years. Three million acres to be created by reforestation and two million from existing woodlands would bring nine per cent of the area of the United Kingdom under forest, comparable with the United States and assist in development of rural Britain. Forty per cent of the U. K. woodlands, it is estimated, are in the hands of private owners. Owners of "dedicated" woodlands would receive state grants.

The British Government, says the Minister of Agriculture, is determined to make forestry a safety measure of reversion as quickly as possible to the U. K.'s reserves of standing timber together with the possibilities of increasing utilization and increased employment in rural Britain offered by systematic reforestation and afforestation. This movement will continue to extend the national parks system to opportunities occur.

Christmas Entertainments

The passing of time brings the excitements and thrills of Christmas preparations and of Christmas entertainments in the home and in the community. The millions will be represented at thousands of these functions which are characteristic of the Christmas season. The enthusiastic as Christmas entertainments, as these assemblies. The little mind of wonder which is the child's mind of the growing interest of the child in life accepts these entertainments at their full value and reaps a harvest of joy and merriment. This wonder mind is not fazed by the fact that in one town or city in the Christmas season, Santa Claus may appear at numbers of entertainments. That is nothing to upset the faith of the children even if there is a multiplicity of him. The reason is clear, the child is convinced that Santa does exist and the more appearances there are the more the child is convinced of his existence. The child is inspired personality. It pays big dividends in love and affection to the teachers and parents who prepare these entertainments. This wonder world of the child at this time is recreated again and every child is given a gift giving full sweep to the imagination. In these boys and girls can teach their parents and elders inevitable lessons in life.

Exposing Nazi's Evil Heart

Never did any other age have such an opportunity to hear and learn how even in what has for long been called an enlightened and cultured age men and women could so far turn from what is honorable, decent and fair as to be guilty of such crimes as have been proven against Hitler and his associates. They were associated with German concentration camps. Stories are being told which make mankind shudder at the evidence of cruelty and depravity proved against those in control of these camps.

A few days ago there was heard a terrible story told by some of those who had been victims of Japanese crimes which shocked the world. The Japanese general, Hiroshima, had been sentenced to hang for permitting such atrocities. The terrible stories of atrocities at Belsen and at Dachau camps are fresh in the minds of 38 officials and guards at the notorious camp at Buchenwald. They were sentenced to death for crimes against prisoners as murder, torture and starvation were sentenced to death by hanging while one other convicted a life term and three were sentenced to ten-year terms.

The revelation of the iniquity of the rule of the aggressors continues to unfold and it points a warning to the world to take every step to prevent such a regime of terror as is a nightmare even to the gaining control or semblance of control. It is a lesson showing how human beings under the influence of the influence of the human and uncivilized motives and with hatred in their hearts and love of exercise of brutal power can deteriorate and degenerate until they become bestial and inhuman and hatters of the human race. The horror of the revelations showing how widespread evil can become under the influence of a demagogue in the mad lust for power and lust and yongness.

Orange Juice in Frozen Slabs

(From "Marketing," Toronto)

California oranges continue to widen their market in the United States. The frozen orange juice is available ten months in the year, is frozen in 1-1/2 slab, sealed in transparent bags for shipping or in cans to frozen food cabinets. The frozen product is not price competitive with the fresh fruit but it meets a convenience demand, and also supplies fresh juice to areas that cannot obtain fresh oranges. The frozen orange juice is distributed for institutional use. Lemon and grapefruit juice are to be added this winter.

Newspaper Facts

"Despite modern inventions, the newspaper remains and will remain for some time the greatest of the mass media for the public opinion."—Most Rev. Hubert Rohdich, Archbishop of Montreal.

King Tut's so-called curse—"Death shall come on swift wings to him that toucheth the tomb of Pharaoh."—The famous English chemist who was a member of the archaeological party which discovered the tomb of the pharaoh in 1923. Others in the party died, mostly from natural causes, including old age, and now Cairo reports the death of Dr. Lucas from a heart attack. But it took 22 years to catch up with this last survivor and suffer as curses. (Windsor Star)

CHRISTMAS MEMORY

He loved the Christmas season all the holy and the mischievous; He loved the children, the laughter, the ring Of doorbells and the carolling; The Christ Child in the stable manger; The glow of Bethlehem's midnight birth; The gold and frankincense and myrrh, Which gifts the Father of the Wren men were; And all the joys of old and young.

She loved the joys of Christmas Eve The faith of children who believe In Santa Claus and go to bed And pray for presents under the tree; And dolls and sleds and hares and drums They waited for: "Till Christmas comes."

She loved the cards which friendship sends, The love which Christmas attends, And she said: "If I'm away Let nothing spoil your Christmas Day."

"Be sure these things you do for me: Get ornaments to trim the tree; With wreaths and ribbon deck each wall; Hang mistletoe in the hall; Remember, pip! the sideboard hang With figs and raisins, cake and pie; And all the carols that you know; Tell all the Christmas tales I've told, And don't, because I'm gone away, Let sadness spoil your Christmas Day."

OFF THE RECORD

"I know you're not hard of heart but my father's way is the best!"

The Grand Junction Railway, complete from Belleville to Hingham, will pass through the village, establishing an important market for the shipment of grain, cheese and all products of the farm. Another epoch in the history of the village was the management of a weekly newspaper, "The Striving News Argus"—Mr. John Thompson was first editor and proprietor. The village was supplied with first class dry goods stores, groceries and meat shops of all kinds. A great improvement has taken place of late in its buildings. Striving suffered greatly by fire but at times the buildings were replaced.

The vote authorized a walkout of a union-estimated 200,000 workers after Jan. 1 in plants of three of the largest manufacturers of electric appliances — General Electric, Westinghouse and the electrical division of General Motors.

The National Labor Relations Board said 85,794 workers in plants from coast to coast voted in favor of a strike to back up their demands for a $2 daily wage boost; 18,216 balloted against.

Figures released by the C.I.O.

About 700,000 steelworkers, making a $2 daily pay increase, have voted to strike Jan. 14. The 114,000 auto workers walked out on their jobs last Nov. 21 in an effort to win a 30-per-cent pay boost.

Foreign Ministers Begin Talks In Fine Atmosphere

By ROBERT JAMES
Monaco, Dec. 11 (AP)—An atmosphere of cordiality enveloped the first meeting of the foreign ministers of the United States and Great Britain today as they began their talks in the country of the Riviera.

A British Foreign spokesman said the foreign ministers would meet for the second time this afternoon and observers expected they would embark at once on discussion of the momentous issues which had brought them to the conference.

Today's meeting was to start at 10 a.m. (P.M. E.M.T.).

Foreign Minister Molotov, as the host, presided over the proceedings—his first joint meeting with State Secretary Byrnes and Foreign Secretary Bevin since the unsuccessful conference of the Foreign Ministers Council in London last September.

United States Ambassador W. Averell Harriman and British Ambassador Sir Archibald Clark Kerr, as well as other members of the British and American delegations, were present. The formal announcement of the initial meeting gave no details but as a sign of good feeling and friendly cooperation was apparent.

Mr. Molotov was described as warmly cordial and hospitable. It was presumed that the conference limited their talk to a discussion of procedural routine—perhaps touching on the future course should be taken up first.

The only American press representative permitted to enter Sperdykova Palace while the foreign ministers were in the city was a representative of the American News Picture Pool, who took the three statesmen in a car to the hotel where they would stay for the night.

Konoye's Suicide Seen as Blow To Emperor's Prestige

By RUSSELL KIRKES

Tokyo, Dec. 11 (AP)—Prime Minister Konoye's suicide yesterday—new and powerful blow to the prestige and position of Emperor Hirohito—may have profound repercussions in the imperial household as well as in political circles.

The prime minister, in his final hours, expressed concern for the future of the imperial throne as discussions of possible abdication were revived. Some Japanese said the suicide might be the final factor in precipitating the Emperor's resignation.

Doctrines, Hirohito personally felt the blow deeply. Konoye was his close confidante and it generally was believed the Emperor placed great authority in "the dangerous priest."

Konoye's death was a swift parallel blow to Gen. MacArthur's recent directive against Hirohito. That directive struck deeply at Hirohito, before that, the widespread network of Gen. MacArthur's war criminal lists had stripped from around the throne all but two of the principal and still active court actors.

The Emperor of the past 15 years. The imperial household in Prince Maruwa, Nishinomiya, had been invaded by the arrest yesterday, a few hours after Konoye's pre-arranged suicide.

Maruwa, 1910, said he recently learned of the Emperor's surrender as "a criminal sentence." It may have been with design, then, that a few days ago newspapers suddenly blossomed anew with stories about Crown Prince Akihito, whose 11th birthday is Dec. 12.

"After the surrender, all of the royal press service stories about Crown Prince, it is known now, were dismissed before the occupation and Akihito was known as a minor prince under a regency. The plan was abandoned when the attitude indicated latent intensity toward Hirohito."

Diet sessions have revealed some indications that the Emperor of the imperial household is weakly. The Emperor's health has been a subject of concern since the occupation and Akihito was known as a minor prince under a regency. The plan was abandoned when the attitude indicated latent intensity toward Hirohito.

Ford Strikers To Take Vote On Govt. Plan

Windsor, Dec. 11 (CP)—For second time a government-sponsored back-to-work plan is to be before members of the 100,000 United Automobile Workers of America (UAW), whose delegates met today in Windsor.

The union members will vote on a plan which has kept 10,000 Ford workers idle since Sept. 12. The ballot will call for a "yes" or "no" vote on the question.

The formula has been slightly modified since 10,000 Union men rejected it by a 54-46 vote. The plan provides for negotiation with arbitration on Union demands and the decision will give the decision within five days.

Rolling mill will have place Tuesday on Wednesday from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. each day at Union headquarters and at all other points in the neighborhood automotive plant.

About 100 members of Local 300 gave almost unanimous approval yesterday to take the vote.

Eighty to vote are all members of Local Union who paid July Union dues and who have since held military membership cards.

The latter practice was approved by members who joined the armed services following signing of the first Union contract but

Women's Body Found in Snow

Kincardine, Dec. 11 (CP)—Police removed their search today into the death of 17-year-old young Angus McDougall, whose blood-stained, frozen body was found floating against a barbed wire fence near her home.

Her grandmother reported over the snow-covered body that she saw her way across a field to Mrs. McDougall's house. She was found at her father's farm, said the police.

Forensic police were called about the woman's body and found the body in the snow. The body was found in the snow.

Police said Mrs. McDougall had alone until recently when her son, Vernon, returned from overseas. He was not home during the weekend and she did not know of his mother's death until

Paris Still City Without Food

By MURIEL FECH
Paris, Dec. 11 (Reuters)—Paris today—15 months after liberation—still a city with a food shortage so acute that fathers of families must join their wives in the daily search to find enough to eat. Rations are insufficient to maintain health and the tremendous rise in prices has upset the whole balance of the family budget.

A couple with one child with an income of 3,000 francs per month (about $1,200 per month)—the wage of thousands of French workmen and many blacked-out workers—must spend at least 732 francs weekly to get what is merely a starvation diet. They get coffee and dry bread for breakfast every day, no meat for dinner except on Sundays, vegetables that are bread for a third meal in the evening. Their menu includes no dessert except on Sundays.

The butter and fat ration is used entirely to make vegetable soups palatable for the main meal. The professional worker who earns 10,000 francs a month supplements this diet with black market purchases and needs a minimum of 1,524 francs per week on food. This means a scrapping of butter with bread at breakfast, meat four times a week, more eggs and cheese and a dessert three or four times a week.

French rations are much less than those in Britain. INDUSTRIAL COUNTRY Great Britain was the first country in the world to become industrialized.

Christmas 1945

THIS is a special kind of Christmas—the first in seven years without the darkness of war.

At last we are free to celebrate the season in the old-time way.

Our loved ones are home. The candles will gleam brighter now, the balaam boughs will breathe a more pungent fragrance, and more sweetly than ever will carols ring... as if in answer to a world's prayers for peace.

But none will forget—now or ever—those fallen sons who sacrificed their lives that we might know the joy of Christmas again.

In their honour and to their glory we worship at home and shrine. And in our hearts shall we resolve to do those things which keep us strong and in the right—the best way of all to banish war forever.

In this, we shall be men who think of tomorrow—men of good will, making sure of ever better Christmases to come.

Toronto Leafs Take 3 of 4 Possible Points Over Weekend Beating Detroit, Tying Bruins

Canadians Remain at Head of the Pack in Boston Saturday and Beating Bruins Sunday, Hawks From Behind to Beat Red Wings

(By The Canadian Press) — When it looks as though any one of three teams might become the first American club to win the Stanley Cup, the Toronto Maple Leafs are the only team to have done so. It happened again this weekend as the Leafs took three of four possible points in their 3-2 victory over the Detroit Red Wings on Saturday and tied the Boston Bruins on Sunday.

Before the weekend's action, the Leafs were leading the pack, having been beaten closely at home in Chicago last week. They had won three of four games in Boston and Boston Bruins.

Among those attending the game was the late, late Crocker of the University of Toronto, who was Dr. A. L. Smith, William Morley and George Pearson of Montreal, in addition to Chairman Macdonald.

First baseman Phil Cavaretta of Chicago took yesterday was named National League batting champion with a .355 average.

Under the terms of the deal, the Leafs will be paid $1 million for the rights to the game, which will be held at the Toronto Sports Centre.

It is believed that two bright young men, Billy Carter and Billy Carter, are the ones who will be paid $1 million for the rights to the game, which will be held at the Toronto Sports Centre.

After Sunday's game, the Leafs will be tied with the Bruins for first place in the Eastern Division.

HANK BOROBY LEADING HURLER START DRIVE TO NATIONAL LOOP

Has Best Earned-Run Average and Best Won-Loss Record

By JOE BERGLER
New York, Dec. 12 (AP)—Hank Boroby, whose midweek comeback from the Yankees helped Chicago Cubs gain their first pinball in seven years, led all national league pitchers in earned-run and won-loss ratings for the first time in his career.

Wanted out of the American League, Yankees president Larry Marshall bought Boroby's contract to go to the south after July 4. Boroby, not only completed 11 of his 14 starting assignments for the Cubs, but he was the first senior starter but for since Cincinnati's Roger Maris to pitch to capture both the earned-run and won-loss titles.

In winning 11 and losing two for an .843 percentage, Boroby allowed only 2.14 earned runs a game, a fraction of a run better than teammate Claude Plessins' 2.40 and five other pitchers the 2.00 per game to the nine-inning end.

In St. Louis' Harry Brecheen, Boroby's runner-up, followed by Bucky Walters of Cincinnati (.828) and the other five of the Cubs (2.02), Pittsburgh's Plessins (.840), Cleveland's Charlie Burdett (.840), and Kansas City's Earl Barrett (.840).

Barrett, another senior hurler, won 10 and lost 10, a .500 record.

Boroby's 23 triumphs for the Cubs and 100 for the Yankees were more than the total of any league's other pitchers.

HOCKEY MORNS NOOTING
The cold weather, ice-makers of the city and the fact that the NHL is in the covered arena in the winter months of the year, the hockey faithful will soon be seeing the winter sports season under way.

Many of the county hockey organizations are springing into action. The Canadian far-flung sections of the league are in the midst of their season. It is due for an improvement.

Newly active hockey enthusiasts met at Marmon's the other night to discuss the possibility of giving organization a vitamin shot. The meeting was held at the Marmon's.

EUROPE FACES GRAVE DANGER IN NEW YEAR

By ROSS MCKENZIE

Frankfurt, Germany (CP) — Most of Europe today yearns for the end of the terrible flight, dreading the depth of winter with its threat of grave privations and sweeping epidemics.

The picture of Europe today has few bright spots. It is a picture of a continent reeling from war practically from one end to the other.

other—of hundreds of ruined cities, ill-fed people, wandering millions, cold depression and gloom.

On the reverse side are roads, war-torn, rebuilt bridges and roads. Many fundamental services such as light and gas are operating again, and despite the immense problems confronting them, most countries are confident the worst will be over if they survive the winter and get a good harvest next summer.

Politically much of Europe is in ferment as the re-established political freedoms shake down to workable systems of democratic government. In free elections which have been held the general trend has been to give aid for left-wing parties, with deterioration of the old right-wing groups.

Disaster Feared
Here in Germany, conditions are as bad as anywhere. There are so many homeless people, so many shattered communities, so little food and fuel that Allied Control Commission authorities fear a major disaster that would engulf the two great democracies of Germany.

Poland, conditions are reported to be not much better. In Poland, Czechoslovakia and the Balkans the grave economic consequences of the war are underlined by the grim reality that the people who endure the winter in Western Europe is much better off, but even there, by Canadian standards, most countries now are only beginning really to feel the effects of the war.

France still has slim rationing, but the winter months are not so much a disaster as for domestic purposes. The people need clothing and fuel, but the winter months are not so much a disaster as for domestic purposes.

Belgium has made the best recovery in Europe, but when people talk "light-bell" of the country being "right back to normal" they are exaggerating. More cold is needed, more food, more materials, more stockpiles and replacements for industrial equipment.

Italians Recover
In the brief period since the liberation last May by the Canadian Army, Holland has been the worst of all nations. There also is the desperate need for coal, food and clothing.

Denmark and Sweden—come out of the war with comparative little suffering and have not the worst of all nations. Norway is desperately short of many foodstuffs.

In central Europe, masses of displaced persons present grave problems, along with the transfer of large numbers from one zone of Germany (Wehrmacht) and from Austria and Czechoslovakia to Germany.

The United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration is helping military authorities with this problem and in the Balkans, Poland, Italy and Greece the full U.N.R.R.A. program is being carried out to prevent starvation and aid recovery.

As Europe struggles with its economic and political legacies of the war, the major Nazi war criminals, indicted in unprecedented fashion by Britain, the United States, Russia and France, are on trial for their lives before the International Military Tribunal. The criminals of Berlin concentration camps have been convicted and war trials go on in various fields, bringing the Nazis and their accessories to justice.

BRITISH TORIES TAKE OFFENSIVE AGAINST LABOUR

Foresee Political Extremism at New High During 1946 by Conservatives

By JAMES MCCOOK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

London (CP)—The Conservative party, though trounced by Labour in the July general election, is the object of a new offensive. Around Whitehall they say the political excitement of 1944 will be a pitch unexcelled for many years.

On the morning of a coronation victory in war, the electorate turned out of office the Conservative "Cairns" administration and replaced it with a Labour government secure. As a majority such as the party never enjoyed in the world reconstruction.

Winston Churchill, left with 196 members in a Commons of 660 members, had been the symbol of British unity and skill during the war. Even some of his fiercest opponents admitted their regret that he was to take secondary roles in the world reconstruction.

Gone to collect Magazines!

Magazines are real morale builders for the young Canadian servicemen who are in hospital, waiting in rest depots, on compassionate duty in Europe.

Order your magazines and have them sent to the nearest post office, or local distribution office. Make sure they are the kind of magazines that would interest the boys.

Remember, do it right away and so help to brighten long and dreary hours for a young Canadian who is still on Active Service.

Leaders in Crime Acting in Spirit Of Bravado—Parker

Toronto, Dec. 20. (CP)—The Toronto Grand Jury is in a report to Judge James Fraser today said that "young men in a spirit of bravado, who have no respect for the rights of others, are the leaders in the wave of gangsterism which is terrorizing the City of Toronto, York County and the Province of Ontario."

"More energetic methods should be made to cope with them," said the prosecutor, urging more drastic measures on the part of the police, the courts and the welfare organizations, parents, the courts and others engaged in the administration of justice.

"Evidence considered by the grand jury indicates that criminals with fastidious records have been allowed their liberty after short terms of imprisonment—only to immediately resume a life of crime," the report said. "The frequency of such individual cases portrays a deplorable indifference, combined with a complete lack of self-respect, ultimately ending in the acts of desperation and violence."

"Unfortunately, the majority of cases brought before us have involved young men and young women who have launched bold late crime, seminary in a spirit of bravado and entirely without respect for the rights of others."

"The type must be dealt with firmly if the tendency to crime is to be impeded. There are too many 17-18-19-20 and 21-year-olds continuing to offend against the law. The law deals with them after they become criminals. Can they be dealt with more effectively before they become criminals by more co-ordinated treatment at home, school, at church and at play?"

"The report advocated more vigour in concealing of moving pictures, and other sources of entertainment and stimulation of the juvenile mind. It also advocated more co-ordinated treatment of the juvenile mind, unimpaired or sex-oriented."

IF you plan a CHRISTMAS TELEPHONE GREETING now is a good time

CHRISTMAS is only a few days away. Long distance calls will be heavier than ever this year. On long calls—especially to Western Canada, the Maritime and remote Ontario Areas—there are sure to be delays at Christmas. So if you plan to exchange greetings by Long Distance, why not do now?

We will do our best whenever you call, but your chance for avoiding delays is better if you telephone some time this week.

Canada Exploring Farm Forums Possibility Of Using Thorium Hold Meeting

By ANNY ROSE
Campbell Farm Editor
Ottawa, Dec. 20.—The decision by Prime Minister Mackenzie King to explore the possibility of using thorium as a source of atomic energy, has thrown the spotlight on a rare element chiefly used before the war in the manufacture of industrial gas.

Mr. King said in the Commons House that this was one line of study at the government research project at Chalk River, Ont., "12 miles northwest of Ottawa. There uranium has been used as the basic source of atomic power. But thorium, a probable second basic material for that purpose, although it is not as yet a proven material."

This passing reference to thorium in the report on the results of Anglo-American-Canadian atomic power talks at Washington was the first indication of the nature of the revenue of research being explored at Chalk River.

While the list of all concerned with atomic energy development is a long one, it is not too familiar with most of the scientists and engineers who are working on the project. The work is being done in the Chalk River project or a workable model of the atomic energy development in the wartime security black-out.

The Chalk River project is the largest largest uranium deposit on the continent. It is located in the Lake does not include thorium. One official said that the thorium impurities had been Canadian, but the thorium had been Canadian.

General Marshall Now in Shanghai To Settle Dispute

By FRED HANFORD
Shanghai, Dec. 20.—(AP)—General George C. Marshall arrived today on his mission to discuss the dispute in China—and as he stepped from his plane, Chinese Communists asked the Changsha government to agree to a Chinese ultimatum, unconditional cessation of hostilities. Li Tsiang-Shan, Communist, peace-party delegate to the Associated Press.

Mr. Marshall is expected to meet President Chiang Kai-shek at Nanking tomorrow to discuss the dispute. The meeting will be the first since the Cairo Yalta Conference.

Associated Press correspondent Spencer Moore, at Chungking, reported the Communist move toward a cease-fire agreement, and said he also informed him that the United States had been asked to help the Chinese Communist cause.

The move from Nanking to Chungking was a strategic move, said Moore, to "go to the limit" in making peace. The date of the forthcoming peace talks between the two parties has not been announced.

The King's Christmas Gifts

They Range From Shawls to Postage Stamps but the Royal Family Prefers Home-Made Presents

By ARTHUR METCALTON

Among the gifts received by King George VI this Yuletide was a number of shawls. Like the blackbirds in the nursery rhyme, they will be baked into a pie, since this is the form provided for this unique Christmas present.

This is presented by the city of Gloucester, England, and although the reason for the custom is not definitely known, it is believed to relate to some legend connected with the city by a royal ancestor.

It is said that in return for the king's obligation of some kind, he had to be imposed upon the citizens, and an annual gift of lambs was given to the king.

However, the Gloucester authorities have since never failed to present the king with a shawl.

WARTIME WAGE CONTROLS TO BE REVISED SHORTLY

Return to Province of Minimum Wage Control Considered Certain

Ottawa, Dec. 21 (CP)—Revision of war time wage controls regulations is expected to receive preliminary approval in the new year. The government is expected to return to the province of minimum wage control in a more radical state. One condition on which a decision has not yet been reached is that employers should be allowed to increase wages with a narrow margin—possibly two per cent—without receiving authority from War Labor Board.

At present, the only increase that can be made without government authority are those made in an established classification plan. It is not clear how far upward the controls will be revised. In Ottawa a few weeks ago for the first time since the controls were laid out by Labor Minister Alexander Meighen, controls would continue until the end of January, a period that might mean a period of several months.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL
Albert J. Gault, publisher of the Montreal Star, was committed for trial on a charge of violating the War Measures Act, 1914. He will be taken to Quebec Jail to await trial here in January. Mr. J. Gault, previously committed for trial on the same charge will be confined in the same jail.

In presenting our customary Christmas message of good wishes to our many valued customers, we wish also to express our sincere appreciation of the splendid spirit of co-operation displayed by our customers in cheerfully accepting during the trying times under war conditions of coal scarcity, strikes, and Government regulations, whatever fuel was available, under most difficult delivery conditions at times.

There still is a marked scarcity of coal and we can only hope, with you, that by next Spring conditions in connection with the supply of coal may be back to nearly normal, but that there need be no more class "A", class "B" and class "C" fuel, but only the good old coils of pre-war years that have proven so satisfactory to our trade for many years.

We feel that we have made a record in keeping Belleville and district warm during the past four or five strenuous years, and it is our aim to continue this policy of Public Service during the peace years that lie ahead with more efficiency than ever.

At this season of "good-will to men" we wish you all a Very Happy New Year.

Fred S. Deacon
This community will miss one of her best known and most highly esteemed citizens. Fred S. Deacon, who died last week, took a few days ago at Miami, Florida, while he had gone in quest of health. Deeply rooted in local traditions and institutions, Mr. Deacon, after obtaining his education and early business training in his native city, went to the United States and made his way up the ladder of success in the land of his temporary residence, there to devote himself to the development of the life of this city and district in many phases of its activity. He was a small person, but his influence on the city. He leaves a memory of a finely proportioned life which touched every aspect of life around him. He was a citizen of this city and district to which he lent his untiring aid and energy.

The life of this whole community is the more and better because Fred S. Deacon lived here and exercised an influence for good and added every ounce of high ideal and helped in the growth and progress of the city commercially, industrially, morally, religiously and socially. Loyal to local traditions and institutions, he was of his time in this community and was associated with various institutions which have and will have a great influence on the city, Sunday School, Industry, the Chamber of Commerce, Board of Education and business and professional organizations. These institutions all bear the mark of his devotion to service and his tireless ardor of what he believed in. He was a man of the life of every boy and man and girl and woman. His work lives in and the memory of this fine character will live in the lives of those who have come in contact with his optimistic spirit.

His loyalty to Belleville was outstanding. This city of his birth and where he loved her people. Few men can have known this city so well and her people as Fred S. Deacon knew her. He has left a memory for Belleville folk here at far away and never tired of meeting visitors and had time to listen to the tales of their success. His retentive memory was a treasury of recollections and facts about the lives of people connected with the city. He knew Belleville intimately and had climbed to high points of honor in many phases of the life of Canada and the United States. His friends and acquaintances who were abroad as no other person could know them. This wide acquaintance and deep understanding of the world and the manner in which he maintained it indicated his spirit of interest in people and in their many interests. He carried an influence upon the young life of Belleville as he held up the wholesome ideal of a worthy case of service.

Mr. Deacon was devoted to the foundations of his business in his native city. He gave his life to the local church of his choice, Bridge Street Methodist Church, and his Sunday School and school and inspiration. He was not only a member of the church, but a devoted school and a working Christian, a staunch supporter of the missionary effort; his interest in the conference of the Methodist and now United Church. His regard for the essential moral basis of education and training was one of the foundations of his championship of the local Y.M.C.A. of which he was the first treasurer and a member of the board of directors for many years. A man of vision he served on the Board of Education and he found opportunity to realize this institution in the proper place because of the supreme importance of education. He saw keenly the need of educational and practical training to enable boys and girls to achieve the highest and best in their lives.

His pride in Belleville was marked, for there was no better place in which to live. His brother, the late William B. Deacon, who founded one of the largest and most successful firms in the city, now Deacons Brothers Limited. The growth of this firm is a reminder of the success which they have achieved in this city in inspiring the business men of the community and the growing generation. Fred S. Deacon was pleased to spend his time in his home, his family and his friends. He was a man of the highest praise of Belleville and of her citizens, and taught the lesson that opportunity here was as great as it could be. He could be anywhere while at the same time it was home to him as it was to him. He was genial and was kind, conversing in three languages, in church, education and in civic and business duties, and he was always courteous to citizens and he always solicited of the welfare of others.

Konroy Revelations

(Montreal Herald.)—If the late Prince Konroy is supposed to clarify the world which he promised the prelude revelations of plotting and counter-plotting among the nations, he was disappointed to failure. An earlier generation would doubtless have been shocked by the Prince's report on the baying-belted "Yokel" and Berlin and the implied readiness of each hagger to swindle those with whom business deals were pending.

But the public has become cynical of late. Its eyes have been opened to the facts of international life as far as secret agreements are concerned. It hopes that the era of double-dealing is ended and that in future, nations will be guided by the open, with unvarnished "stab in the back" clauses included in treaties and pacts.

Whether these hopes are justified or no, people incline to regard past betrayals and intended betrayals as water over the dam— an attitude which largely nullifies the effects of the Konroy revelations.

Brit's Best At It

(Ottawa Journal.)—It is no secret at all that the most admired and best regarded nation in Germany is the British. The British professional soldier takes to administration and to the management of a measure of objectivity. His habits of mind derive from an imperial tradition. To administer a subject people is to be good. It is a subject people in an economic emergency, this is a way of life which comes instinctively to most Britons and adds to the admiration of the British. The British soldier in his mind command is identical with responsibility for the welfare of those to whom he is assigned. He is a man who is not looking after anyone whose life is placed in their hands. The British soldier of them, they are happy and efficient in doing it.

Varied Forests

During the war years that have just ended, particularly in the last three, Canadian forests in general and Quebec forests in particular have been subjected to an exploitation which was not only extravagant and excessive, but terrible. Those who have had occasion to frequent forest regions during this period and who know how to open their eyes and observe have been struck by the extent of the damage. An old saying, the day after an orgy is productive of hermits. So that, the war having come to an end, the forests are being heard preaching the cause of forest preservation. Another occasion for saying better late than never.

Ancient Skyraiper for Ships

(From "Ship" Magazine.)—One of the world's first skyrapers was a picturesque hull built in the year 600 years before Christ. It stood on the island of Pharo, near Alexandria, and was as high as a modern 30 storey building. It was 1,800 years it stood, a beacon to mariners and a model for lower architecture, finally falling in ruins in 1326 A.D.

SLOW TIME

My pa says that come what may, Twenty-four hours make a day. Twenty-five can never be. Never one with twenty-three. I've heard 'em say that's all true. All the same the whole year through. I don't know what that can be. Days are not the same to me. Some are long and some are short, All depends on the way I see 'em. Just 'fore Christmas, this I know, Days are long and slow to go. Buy Mother says: "Oh my! How the time goes racing by!" But with her I don't agree. I've heard 'em say that's all true. Longest days of all the year, These, when Christmas Eve is near.

CZECHS HUNGRY FOR EDUCATION

Wife of Minister to U.S.
Says They Seek Books
More Than Food

By ADELIA KESS
New York, Dec. 31 (CP) — "I, Czechoslovakia, the hunger for the printed word is greater than the hunger for food."
That report comes from Mrs.
Jan Papanek, American-born wife of the Czechoslovakian minister plenipotentiary to the United States, who is also head of the Czechoslovakian Information Service in this country. The Papaneks have just returned from a two-month visit in Czechoslovakia.

"I saw constant evidence of that terrible hunger for information," Mrs. Papanek said. "There are four times as many students in university and high rank schools now as formerly—20,000 students compared with 5,000 before the war. The professors are carrying four times as great a load of lectures as they did formerly. They need to be kept busy." She said.

Now their work is almost back-breaking. The United States Information Service opened a reading room in a small store located with periodicals. All day long queues stand in front of that room. It is daily pouring over the publications and scribbling notes as fast as they can.

Remember that these people are written in English. Many more people seem to have learned to read in English this year.
Before the English Speaking Club founded by university students opened. "I expect an audience of 50 or 75. I stepped into an audience with between 600 and 700 students."

Mrs. Papanek said that Czechoslovakia still faces a serious problem, that only food and potatoes are unobtained and that people get only one meal piece of meat a week. But she said that UNRRA's gifts of clothing, hardware, paper and cattle had enabled the people to plant some crops and stock some farms, and that to look forward to better food conditions next year, though the present winter promises to be one of great privation.

Mrs. Papanek, a Chicagoan, is a graduate of Northwestern University and a former social service worker. She met her husband, now minister to the United States, at a visit to Paris and they were married several years later.
The health of the Czechoslovakian children is one of the country's greatest problems today.
Mrs. Papanek said, "A survey of the country's greatest problems is a population of 15 million are suffering from malnutrition and resulting diseases. Many of these are still living in damp cellars and other unhealthy places. Because of the lack of transportation and other things many cannot be given adequate care. What we lack of these children will be no one knows."

Looking Ahead in Ottawa

By the Ottawa Staff of The Canadian Press
Ottawa, Dec. 31 (CP) — The feeling in diplomatic circles here that a European and not an American or an American will be chosen as secretary-general, in the United Nations organization.

With the United States chosen as the permanent site for the organization's headquarters, it was believed that the nations would balance matters by dividing one of the most important posts to a European.

Hon. L. B. Prowse, Canadian ambassador to the United States, Norman Robertson, Canadian under-secretary of state for External Affairs, and Hilda Wright, assistant under-secretary, have been appointed as possible choices for the post.

It is understood, however, that the Canadian government officials do not expect the post to go to one of these men.
The government is expected to announce shortly the names of the Canadian delegates to the organization's meeting in London on January 10. All previous organization meetings in London.

The Canadian delegation has been selected from the various parties in parliament.
Japanese—Efforts to revitalize Japanese now in Canada are expected to move forward on those who are definitely repatriation candidates. Already number of these people—Japanese, national and Canadian-born Japanese who had asked for registration and not returned their applications before Japan was defeated, is well underway.

The first shipment of some 200 is expected to leave next month.
Once work is completed, those who now are being held for repatriation attention will turn to those in detention. There so far has been no indication of when a decision will be made on the Japanese who are on the list of Japanese who wish to remain in Canada.

The majority of opinions in Britain and Canada on the need for a world government for the maintenance of peace, provided for in the organization, is expected to be of any drive by the government to pay such a body outright.

Foreign Secretary, Beria and his Professor, Hon. Anthony Eden, recently met in Ottawa. It was there that a world government was needed for a world government. The need for a body was likewise emphasized by Prime Minister Mackenzie King and John Bishop, Progressive Conservative party leader.

These opinions were said to arise out of the recognition that such a world government as those arising out of the use of atomic energy could not be handled on any regional or national basis. To have effective control there would have to be some universal body.

recognized by all nations, which would have power to prevent the use of atomic energy for war purposes.

THEIR ROAD TO Enjoyment

Two million or more motorists from the States visit us each year ... thousands for the sheer beauty of our countryside. Let's see to it that our hospitality matches its perfection.

WHAT CAN I DO?

- Well, everybody has his own way of showing hospitality... whatever you do, make sure it adds up to "Drop in anytime, we're glad to have you!"
Here's a set of tips suggested by an Ontario booklet.
1. Find out all about what your own neighborhood offers and become a booster.
  2. Write your friends in the States about Ontario... show them that you're really proud of it.
  3. Try to make all our visitors glad they came... and be really enthusiastic about it.
  4. If they ask for information or directions, take time to answer them fully and graciously.
  5. In any business dealings you may have with them, remember Canada's reputation for courtesy and fairness depends on you.
  6. To sum it all up, just follow the "Golden Rule!"

Merry Christmas to All

We are hoping that every one of you enjoys the happiness of Christmas and the holiday season. We wish to express our thanks for your patronage and your friendship, and hope we may serve you throughout the future years!

IT'S EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS... all good business!

It works both ways!
They treat us royally
when we visit them
... we can't do less than return the compliment. Remember that it costs money
to take a holiday...
so let's see they get a good return for every penny they spend in Canada.

His Majesty to His Peoples

His Majesty King George in his Christmas message will address to the Empire placed before the young eye of having faith in life. During the years of conflict the people have been upheld by a vision of the world at peace. "A great work has been done, a great evil has been cast from the earth, and no people have done more to cast it out than you to whom I speak," said he, the King, as he brought greetings to the Empire, and the young eyes of the world saw the grace which has been won by "this Christmas when by my peoples as the world over, every man, woman and child in the dark days that are gone."

His Majesty's reference to Christmas, as a real homecoming to a world "in which the homely and friendly things of life can again be seen," expanded the idea of homecoming to the Empire. It is the Christmas of the Christmas that the Empire world knows. "The things that have been saved are beyond all price," he said, "and the thousands of Britain of the British people, which we have saved from destruction, we still find them strengthened and deepened by fires of faith. Faith in these things held us in brotherhood through all our trials, and has carried us through. Perhaps a better understanding of that brotherhood is the most precious of all the gifts that remain with us and which we should treasure. Together all our peoples round the globe have met every danger and triumphed over it—and we are together, one world-wide family, in the joy of our Christmas."

For the six years of the King has been the Christmas of the Empire, and in the time of conflict, now he is privileged to speak for the first time since 1913 to the Empire, and the young eyes of the world see men who have won victory over the enemy. In telling what has been achieved, the King says to the young eyes of the world, "We remember them and prize and with undying love pray that a greater peace than ours may now be born." "Many are still far from home, and distant lands lack of opportunity to shelter, countries the means and manners of civilized life. But many anxieties have been met, and the comfort and peace bring you nearer to your heart's desire."

His Majesty pointed to the fact that there is "not yet the soundness of peace" and "we all have to make a little go a long way." Christmas brings his message of brotherhood and peace, and the young eyes of the world see that he is not in the midst of the war, but in the midst of the peace. His Majesty in his address summed up the message of brotherhood and peace, and the young eyes of the world see that he is not in the midst of the war, but in the midst of the peace. His Majesty in his address summed up the message of brotherhood and peace, and the young eyes of the world see that he is not in the midst of the war, but in the midst of the peace.

Britain's gift to the world has been many in the long course of history and she still has a message to humanity such as the King expressed.

The Christmas Day broadcast of King George has been a success in its purpose, although the high and great responsibility of his life in the exalted office he holds. They voice the spirit of British peoples.

Prize Prizet Song

Some day, (London Daily Mail) — Some day, when the sun is shining, when a warm, sleepy time in quick walks, "Cruciating Down the River," finds its way across the Atlantic, Americans will be listening to a fairy tale come true. Two middle-aged spinsters, dressmakers, Lavender-hill, South London, wrote the prize song. It has been bought them a $4,000 cheque in time for Christmas.

They are the winners of an All-British Write-a-Tune contest.

Here are the words:

Cruising down the river on a Sunday after a sunny sailing day;
With one you love, the sun above, waiting for the moon;
The old routines playing a sentimental tune,
Cruising down the river on a Sunday after a sunny sailing day.

The birds above all make the sound of sweet refrain,
And obscure among all make the sound of sweet refrain;

Just you and I together plan a homey moon,
Cruising down the river on a Sunday after a sunny sailing day.

AN APPRECIATION from the SCHUSTER COMPANY, LTD.

In presenting our customary Christmas message of good wishes to our many valued customers, we wish also to express our sincere appreciation of the splendid spirit of co-operation displayed by our customers in cheerfully accepting during the trying times under war conditions of coal scarcity, strikes, and Government regulations, whatever fuel was available, under most difficult delivery conditions at times.

There still is a marked scarcity of coal and we can only hope, with you, that by next Spring conditions in connection with the supply of coal may be back to nearly normal and that there need be no more class "A", class "B" and class "C" fuel, but only the good old coals of pre-war years that have proven so satisfactory to our trade for many years.

We feel that we have made a record in keeping Belleville and district warm during the past four or five strenuous years, and it is our aim to continue this policy of Public Service during the peace years that lie ahead with more efficiency than ever.

At this season of "good-will to men" we wish you all a Very Happy New Year.

END OF WAR FAILS TO EASE BRITISH FINANCE PROBLEMS

Marked British Dependence on Government Change But... Switcher to Peace Footing.

Written for the Canadian Press by GEORGE ARABAMSON, London, Dec. 31 (CP)—The financial problems have been around for some time, but the end of the war and the switcher to peace footing have made the situation more acute.

The financial crisis is the result of the war, and it is not likely to be solved in the near future. The government has been forced to borrow heavily from the United States, and this has led to a large increase in the national debt.

The government has also been forced to raise taxes, and this has led to a large increase in the cost of living. The result is a financial crisis that is likely to last for some time.
